THE SMART PRINT MANAGEMENT SOLUTION FOR EDUCATION

Printing in higher education is a huge expense that can be difficult to track, control and manage. Educational institutions are often caught between wanting to provide their students with convenient access to premium copying and recovering their device and usage costs.

Enterprise Print Management (EPM) for Education addresses both these concerns and ensures that schools and educational institutions are able to offer their users efficient, streamlined printer services while reducing costs, IT support and maintenance.

PREMIUM PRINTING AT EVERY USER'S CONVENIENCE

Students are not static; they are always on the move between different buildings and campuses. EPM's 'Follow-Me' feature allows users to:

- Release their documents for printing using their mobile phone, laptop or tablet
- Delete jobs no longer required, prior to printing, reducing wastage
- Change passwords or manage a variety of actions through the self-service portal.

INCREASED PRINTING SECURITY

Maintaining the confidence of security and availability is a key element of EPM for Education. Users have their own personal identification number (PIN) or access card and can be assured their documents will only be released to the printer closest to them, at a convenient time when they are able to immediately access the documents.

PAYMENT PRIOR TO PRINTING

EPM for Education's default payment portal enables Educational Institutions to ensure users pay upfront for printing. Users can see, at a glance, their balance through the self-service portal. They will also be notified when their balance is running low, and then be able to credit their account conveniently and securely. Other services around billing, including integrating with existing payment mechanisms and electronic payments, can easily be achieved in EPM with Education.

FUTURE PLANNING AND OPTIMISATION

EPM's powerful rules and reporting abilities not only help to improve printing services but also fleet management. Administrators can gain an understanding of which printers are most in use and by whom. This knowledge helps facilitate decisions concerning purchasing or reallocation of printers to recover costs and meet user demands.

REDUCED SUPPORT AND MAINTENANCE

EPM's central management system, which includes a self-service portal, allows educational institutions and their users to track and manage their printing environment through a browser-based management solution. A common interface across all devices, the self-service portal simplifies the printing process and lowers the support costs associated with troubleshooting devices.

THE MODULAR ROUTE TO IMPROVED PRINT MANAGEMENT

The EPM for Education solution consists of modules specifically geared towards helping educational institutions find a cost-effective way to streamline their printing services while improving efficiencies and providing printing confidentiality and convenience.
